ArcWorks

The Arc
Monroe
New York

Quick Facts:

- Takes place at ArcWorks, a manufacturing business in the city of Rochester
- Meets OPWDD entrance criteria for prevocational services
- Gain important community employment readiness skills

ArcWorks is an integrated manufacturing business operated by The Arc of Monroe. This prevocational service prepares people to gain employment readiness skills through paid work activities. Every person enrolled in Lyell Prevoc at ArcWorks has an employment plan with goals they design to further their progress toward community employment.

Located at Canalside Business Center in the city of Rochester, ArcWorks has a fully accessible cafeteria, easy access to restaurants and shops, and is conveniently located on an RTS route.

As a manufacturing business, ArcWorks is committed to working with people with I/DD on developing new job skills in areas including packaging, assembly, kitting, order fulfillment, etc.

Goal:

People will gain important employment readiness skills so they can transition from ArcWorks to supportive or community employment.

To learn more about this service, contact our Engagement Coordinator at (585) 672-2222.

